Tuesdays with Morrie is a touching stage adaptation of the best-selling book by Mitch Albom. It tells the autobiographical story of the relationship between Albom, an accomplished career-driven journalist, and Morrie Schwartz, his former college professor. Sixteen years after graduation, Mitch happens to see Morrie's appearance on a television news program and learns his old professor is battling Lou Gehrig's disease. Mitch is reunited with Morrie, and what starts out as a simple visit turns into a weekly pilgrimage and final class in the meaning of life.

Imagine if you could win the lottery, travel to your perfect place in the blink of an eye, own your dream car, turn back the hands of time or reunite with a lost loved one. It all becomes a reality, every night.

True to its title, "Grand Illusion" is the logical, and incredible, evolution of this conjurer's art. Copperfield's goal in "Grand Illusion" is to take one's dreams (and maybe a few nightmares) and make them become reality using his state of the art wizardry.
